

In light of Women's History Month, we are thrilled to celebrate the remarkable achievements of our community and reaffirm our commitment to champion change and improve lives.

Recognizing Community Innovation

Our CEO, Lori Jackson, participated in the Ward Infinity Pitch Competition and Community Innovation Awards Ceremony, recognizing community efforts for health, wellness, and sustainability in D.C. Congratulations to Effective to Great Education (ETGE) and their mentor, Dr. Barbara "Bobbi" Kurshan, for winning the Social Entrepreneur Team of the Year Award. ETGE's product uses advanced AI to enhance teacher effectiveness in schools. We're committed to supporting innovative solutions with real community impact and are honored to have been a part of the awards ceremony.

Root Cause Analysis

Uncovering The True Origins of
The Challenges
We Face

Our latest blog talks about how JBRF emphasizes tackling the core issues facing vulnerable communities by asking "Why?", using Root Cause Analysis (RCA), which helps us dive deeper into the layers of these issues. By implementing RCA, we were able to prioritize listening and learning from the community which led us to propose sustainable solutions such as creating the Patient Bill of Rights and ways to increase the representation of Black women in the healthcare workforce. Learn more about how RCA has helped our work here.

Show Your Support. Invest in Black Women This March.

Throughout the month of March, we invite you to join us in celebrating Women's History Month by supporting organizations that have a positive impact on cancer outcomes and economic mobility for women. One such organization we are proud to partner with is Black Women Thriving East of the River \(BWTEotR\) that helps Black women not only survive, but thrive.

Investing in Black women is not just a matter of racial and gender equity, but a move to create thriving communities. Together, let's make this month a meaningful opportunity to support and honor the resilience and strength of Black women.
